When Mr Dolph is classed by the press of the lors," it is meant specifically that he has been a corporation lawyer so long that he is pretty certain to have on all matters that come before the senate the corporation bias. For proofs in this particular case one has no need to look further than the pages of Mr. Dolph's continu-ous speech, before referred to, on the Northern Pacific land grant.

It was the opposition of the Oregon senators to the Van Wyck amendment, the debate that took place upon that amendment, and the efforts made in Portland and throughout Washington territors in opposition to the action of the senate on that amendment, together with the strong commendation passed upon the Oregon senators in the resolutions inspired by the Northern Pacific, and in fact sent out from its bureau, for their course upon this matter—which c urse it was expressly declared ought to be approved because it would do injury to Oregon by cutting off business and transfering it to points outside the state— hat gave immediate ecasion for the remarks in The Obertonian to such a source and for such reasons.

such a source and for such reasons.

The great milroad corporations have received from the people tavors enough. There is no need to shape legislation so as to give them more, or so as to confirm to them rights, privilegement tavors which makes the property of the prope leges and franchises which may be in doubt. bat they are legally entitled to let them have let them have just what close construction of the law will give them, and no more. They will not be backward in appealing to the courts for their legal rights and as the people do not want them to have more than they have secured aiready, congress ought not to interpose with any kind of legislation to clear up doubts in

GLADSTONE'S PRIMERY.

Gladstone is clearly beaten at the polis. Defeat is not new to this great man, but his ideas always conquer at last. Somebody has said that the article of the state that the heretic of one century is the hero of the next. In 1866, under the last ministry of Lord John Russell, Gladstone was beaten on his re-form bill and Derby and Instable came in, but bladstone was strong enough to compel Disraeli to accept the principle recommended and to pass a suffrage bill more radical than the reform measure of the Russell mioistry. In 18-38 Ghat 8 one, as leader of the liberals, succeeded the ory Disraeli. After six years of the most splended reform administration that England has known in this century, (rladstone, in February, 1874, dissolved par lament and appealed to people. Then, as now, the great minister ten at the polls and at once resigned Disraell succeeded, bel i office until March, 1880. ple, was beaten and again gave way to Glad

The glorg of Gladstone has always been his capacity, sularging with every year of his carter, to drop the traditions of his yenth, as ways using higher in liberalism, and not going lack. His greatest and his only rist it in popular cloquence, John H. Aht, once described Gudstone as always struggling towards the light. A modern historial says of him that "even his openies for that the one idea that the right thing. No has a clear that the right thing. But from the legal and node profession we have now open the liberals received a fur share of support. The fluential received a fur share of support. The question was whether the masses were able oon situationally to our bear the classes because it had giways been shown that where or truth until and tumantly were conceined the masses were in the right and the classes in the wrong.

Here are some figures that serve to show the strength of the landed aristocracy. Fig. men and 150,000 acres and upwards of the soil of Great Britain; seventy two 50,000 up to 150,000 283 from 20,000 to 150,000 acres - 40 from 1000 to 20,000 acres - 611 from 1600 to 100 acres, making about 2500 persons who own all the choice real accut 2xx persons who own int the cooles rear estate of the country. Peers alone, in right of conquest, bequest, descent and purchase, own $150,512 acres in Ireland, or about one-sixth of the whend, In Scotland the same class own

The Marquis of West-minster, the wealthiest man in English, owns 19,400 acres in the country and miles of streets and avenues in London

Jessph Arch once declared that of the total acreage of the British relands, officially given at 7°8 8,829, one third of the soil was shut out from the free and best use, and he quoted the returns of the "New Doomsday Book" to show that 15,783 persons own 40 245 775 acres, n estates ranging from above 500 acres each to over 100,000 acres each. These figures include only England, Wules and Scotland, excluding Ireland In England and Wales 18,000 men own over 22,000,000 acres, and in Scotlan 1 2500 men over 18,000,000 acres So much for the organized strength of the weal thy landed aristocracy, whose class influence was the conspicuous factor of the opposition to trial-stone and home rule. Now let us turn to the class influence of the stric clergy. The arch bishop of Canterbury gets $75.00 m year the bishop of Xrk $50,000 the bishop of Land in $50,000 of Durham $35,000 Winchester $32 500 Ely $27,500 the hishops of Bath and Wells, Glucester, Oxford and Worcester ento get $25,00 a year A dean gets $10,00), and a canon $5000 a year The church is chiefly recruted from the austocracy, it is one of the soup bouses' for younger sons, while many of its dignituries are noblemen in their own right. The church is always tory, always has right. The church is always tory, always has been tory, since the days of Charles the First and Land since the days when the English bishops were the last to turn against the tyrant James Second, the influence of the church is always thrown against the enlargement of popular rights and privileges, and to this organized influence of the landed aristocrapy, with their thousands of tide walters, time servers and dependents, tacked by the influence of the state clergy, discistone owes his defeat. The classes have beaten the masses, because, as is to case have beaten the musses, because, as is the case some imes in our own country, a portion of the masses in heir political ignorance and sectarian prejudice voted with class and caste and mothe irrepressible conflict over Ireland must go on under Salisbury as it has under Gladstons, only it wit rage with new fierceness under the administration of a brutal, cynical aristocrat, who coolly confesses be has nothing better to propose for home rule than another twenty rears of that coercion that has never calmed realist, except we agree to call the stillness of a military prison the content of a free people Macaular in 1844 on a motion made by Lord John Russell to inquire into the condition of Ireland, said

And this is the man, a cynic in thought, rule, charse His solution it needs no political propiet to say can only end under coercion in confusion ettil more dire than that which has plagued Irelan i for the last bundred years.

H HOWL THOM TACOMA

Really now the Tacoma Ledger ought not to work itself into a fever over a small matter, and it ought not, in its rage, to deal in bareh words which it will repent when it stops to consider that is, if it ever stops to consider. The ORE GOLIAN said "They (ships loaded with tea now en route to Portland) come to this port beause it is believed to be cheaper and more direct than sither San Francisco or Puget Sound" Now THE ONLGONIAN does not know this to be fals this route, that is, cheaper than the rivel ports of Tacoma or San Francisco? Of course not! For our own part we believe that the Portland route will not be found diseaser than the San Francisco route, and if the Letter had not gone blind in its rage it would have read this op nion as frankly stated further on in the paragraph.

The statement that P riland is a cheaper portian Taxona can not be considered very bold in the light of the fact that Portland sends out. each year forty ships to one from Tacoma Portland is a cheaper port for the China trade, because it is, in a small way we must adm t, a trade, and they are pretty sure to find here gramments to here prets in Lugland or, failing, return engagements to China. such ships coming to Tau ma find no such chances, for Tacoma has no dealings with China and no grain to ship to Furope San I rancice, has over Portland the advantage of a big scarket over a small one. Where we have one this load of grain for Forone 522 I ran less one supposed of grain for Furone 3a1 francisco has ben, and where we have one ship hold of goods for China she has twenty—an I rancisco has, besides, a barbor minacent to the ser, which Portland, (no. 1 acoma, we may add) i has not. Manifestly the chances of sin doyment in such a market the better than in a small one.

As to the Leap r's quotation from Mr. Villard, its really too shillow for serious reply. Since when did Mr. Villard begoing a Tacomi oracle. when did Mr. All vill become a Tacoma oracle. Why have not pr. c. kal. shippers taken up with his suggrestions? Why does Portland continue to be the shipping depot of the Northwest of Tacoma is the cheaper por the Northwest of Tacoma is the cheaper por the value of the Northwest of Tacoma is the cheaper por the value of the Northwest of Tacoma is the cheaper por the value of the Ledger, since its opinions and statements are alike without basis in either intelligence or judgment, but we certainly have no objection to its "opening a campaign," or half a dozen campaigns, if it likes, "against the disabilities of our minaud location."
